ROOTS AND SHOOTS

WALDORF SCHOOL AND FARM

The Early Years

The first three years of a child's life are full of a phenomenal amount of growth and learning. Roots and Shoots classes offer support and guidance for families as they begin to establish routines that encourage the healthy development of the growing child. These classes provide a place, week after week, for children to enrich their world beyond their family circle.

Playtime

Each class, Infants through Blossoms, offers an open time for the child to explore free play. The toys and equipment are carefully chosen to encourage healthy movement and imagination. Children have the opportunity to grow their capacities as they explore new movements and practice old ones, such as climbing over a bridge, changing a doll's clothes or pouring water from a watering can.

Singing

Traditional nursery rhymes, simple finger games and seasonal songs and stories are shared throughout the morning. Circle time encourages adult and children to laugh and cuddle and to be silly as well as sincere. Songs aid the children in making transitions from one activity to another.

Observation

Through the adults' quiet observation – both guided and spontaneous – of the children as they explore their surroundings, parents deepen their own intuitive knowledge and discover new ways of seeing the children.

Camaraderie

Roots and Shoots classes are a great way to meet other parents and share the humbling trials and tribulations of parenting a young child in today's ever-changing world. From the first steps to first foods, potty training to establishing healthy sleep (for all!), and beyond, lively discussions are guaranteed. Parents find the insights from one another invaluable.

The 2019-20 Roots and Shoots sessions run from Sept. 3rd - Dec. 20th (Fall session) and Jan. 6th - Jun. 3rd (Spring session).

ROOTS AND SHOOTS Parent-Child Classes

Our infant and toddler classes provide a peaceful and nurturing experience for both the parent and the child. Many of the questions facing parents today are explored in a spirit of inquiry and mutual respect. Parents find a community of sharing and support.

BRIDGE PROGRAMS

THE SWEET PEA CLASS (One day per week) is a bridge between the Roots and Shoots toddler class and the Rosebuds Preschool. Parents remain with the children in the class for the Fall Session. In the Spring Session, children will transition to saying goodbye to their parents for the morning.

THE BLOSSOMS CLASS (Two days per week) is Summerfield's beloved transitional preschool program for children who are 2 1/2 to 3 years of age. Parents remain in the class for the first few weeks until the children have built their confidence and feel comfortable with the rhythm of the program. During class, children experience a seasonal song circle, story time, and plenty of outside play. There is also a focus on parent education.

- 1 or 2 days per week
- Classes are grouped by age
